

Case Study: Contract Manufacturing Digital X-Ray Wallstand

The area of health imaging has seen major changes in the last decade with a shift toward DR (digital radiography) imaging. PEKO has helped a Fortune 500 health imaging OEM meet these challenges providing development and manufacturing services. PEKO produced the wallstand and overhead trolley assemblies pictured below through use of our in-house machining, sheet metal, electrical harness capabilities. Further value engineering and manufacturability reviews lowered cost with no impact on performance.

